

Train-the-Trainer Course on Child Abuse Intervention & Prevention

You are invited to attend the Train-the-Trainer program on “Partnerships for Healthy Communities - Child Abuse Intervention & Prevention: A course for pre-hospital providers and law enforcement”. Partnerships for Healthy Communities (PHC) is a three-hour course developed in partnership with Children’s Healthcare of Atlanta, Sandy Springs Fire & Rescue, Alpharetta Fire, Georgia Emergency Medical Services, and more.

PHC is designed to educate first responders on how to recognize child abuse, how to properly document suspicions or evidence of child abuse, and how to prevent abuse.

As a trainer of the PHC program, you will be able to educate first responders in Georgia on how to recognize, document, and prevent child abuse.

This training is free. EMS Educator and POST continuing education credits will be provided. Space is limited.

Who?
